

are separate and their particles do not mix, that is particle number  $N$  and  $N_0$  and volumes of the systems are constant, they can exchange the energy.

